b. Accomplishments

1. Cherokee Phoenix did an article on the High School Equivalency (GED) Program. We are trying to let everyone know about the retro-active passing score changes through the GED Testing Service.
2. Electrical Assistant Training began ICTC.
3. HVAC Assistant Training began ICTC.
4. JD-NDWG and SP-NDWG staff presented information at the Tulsa Mayor’s Veteran’s Advisory Council and at the Tulsa Mayor’s Workforce Development Council.
5. Our Career Skills Education staff administered the Four-Colors Presentation to a class of 25 students of NSU.
6. Talking Leaves Job Corps was named a “Gold Star Center” by the National Job Corps Association for their continuous congressional and community outreach in the year 2015.

National Dislocated Worker Grant Participant Success:

In the summer of 2015, Bruce Tyre and his family had everything they could hope for; a beautiful house in a quiet neighborhood, happy, healthy children, and a great job that he had worked at for nearly 25 years. That was soon to change. “On June 15, we were told that the company I worked for, Southwestern Wirefloss, would be closing due to a downturn in the oil and gas industry, said Tyre.”

Tyre attended a “Rapid Response” presentation sponsored by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission. The purpose of a Rapid Response Team is to provide individuals who are facing layoffs with information on how to obtain unemployment benefits, insurance, and job search information and resources. Cherokee Nation Career Services in Tulsa attends these Rapid Response meetings and presents the Dislocated Worker Pro-grams. “I called Career Services and was able to look at all options available to me through the program, said Tyre. “I chose to enter the Pre Apprenticeship program at the Ironworkers Union Local 584 in Tulsa.

The pre-apprenticeship program is a fast-track training partnership that provides participants the opportunity to become certified welders during an 8-week class. It is funded through a National Dislocated Worker grant secured by Cherokee Nation Career Services. The purpose of the grant is to help individuals get the skills they need to secure good paying jobs that are a path to self-sufficiency. Graduates of this program have the opportunity to join the local union with direct entry and receive credit for one year’s apprenticeship.

In addition to completing the program, Tyre was also named the top welder in his class. “I am thankful to the Cherokee Nation for giving me the opportunity to learn a new skill with the welding program,” said Tyre. “One week after graduating, I had my first job through the Ironworkers Union with a steel company in Tulsa. I learned to hang iron and set riggings in addition to using my new skills as a stick and flux-core welder. I have also had two additional job offers since then which lets me know that I made the right choice to call Cherokee Nation and participate in this program. I now have skills that will allow me to get a good paying job as long as I want to pursue this career.”

Day Training Participant Success:

Michael Tanner is 4/4 Cherokee and a resident of Jay, Oklahoma. He also is a permanent employee of the Cherokee Nation which he attained on November 23, 2015 thanks to the Day Training Program of Cherokee Nation. Michael learned basic employment skills when he was a student at Jay High School. He participated on the Summer Youth program for two years where he was taught the importance of daily time and attendance, good work ethics, and the benefit of working cooperatively with others. These skills would greatly benefit Michael in the years to come.

After completing High School, Michael realized he could not go farther without additional training and skills so he decided to join the U.S. Military.

Michael joined the Navy in 1984 and was soon attending the Navy-Marine Corp Intelligence Command School in Virginia Beach, VA. He became a Navy Operational Intelligence Analyst, Tactical Reconnaissance Support as well as a Rescue Swimmer with the U.S. Coast Guard. He was stationed on the USS Carl Vinson.

During his seven years of service he earned the following distinguished medals:

- National Defense Service Medal
- Coast Guard Meritorious Unit
- Coast Guard Commendation Medal
- Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal
- First Good Conduct Award
- Navy "E" Ribbon
- Coast Guard Specialty Operations Service Ribbon
- Sailor of the Quarter

Michael completed his duties in 1991. After release he moved with his wife to Salt Lake City, Utah to be close to his wife's family. They would stay there for many years as Michael became a Security Supervisor for a large manufacturing company and this provided the family income.

As Michael came from a large family and he had been gone a long time, something began to tell Michael to come home. The family relocated to Jay but Michael had no job. Now he would reach out to Cherokee Nation again to assist him with Day Training until he could gain permanent employment.

Within nine months Michael proved himself to the Cherokee Nation Donated Foods Department that he was a dependable hard worker and a permanent position was offered. Michael accepted the position and now can enjoy his job, family, and life at home.

c. Initiatives

1. We are interviewing for a new Testing Assistant for our Pryor Office. This will allow us to schedule additional testing dates.
2. Local 584 Welding Fast Track Graduation will be in March.
3. Another Culinary training will begin in March.
4. Another Local 584 Welding Fast Track training will begin in March.
5. Another Heavy Equipment Training (ICTC) will begin in March.
6. Talking Leaves Job Corps will be volunteering at the Cherokee Heritage Center in March for their annual Indian Territory Days, serving over 800 elementary children.
